was at Nanaimo, I never saw a uniformed guard aboard those planes. "It seemed illogical to me to have long-range flights on American planes going to Russia. We were shipping airplane parts, butter and other goods, and there'd be no reason to place a guard over cargo of that sort."

The Nanaimo airport was a special very command base, Robert L. Boleux, and he said there was no reason to place a guard over cargo of that sort. The long-range planes used Nanaimo instead of the big airport on Edmonton's outskirts.

American pilots flew the planes to Fairbanks, where the Russian pilots took over, flying via Galena and Nome to Russia.

MAJOR'S CHARGE
In Washington, D.C., George H. Jordan, former Air Force major, challenged the experts today to dig into many long-range records and "dig out the charges that Harry L. Hopkins and state department officials gave Russia a bomb on a plane."

He said investigators who compare his diary entries with data on wartime aid to Russia will find that "they fit like a well-cut puzzle."

Jordan's charges against Hopkins, now in White House custody, and two unnamed state department aides, have been branded "outrageous" by Hopkins' friends and relatives.

They nevertheless have touched off sensational investigations with promises from the Air Force and Atomic Energy Commission to give their "full cooperation."

WELCOME INQUIRIES
Jordan welcomed the inquiries today that "a lot of big-wigs who are now being asked to be smoked out."

The story said by the Silver-Older (London) that the Air Force officer recalled said of the Communist spy thrillers which have been circulating since the war, including the now-famous Alger Hiss-Whittaker Chambers pumpkin papers espionage case resulting in the current New York perjury trial.

Jordan thumbed through his red checkbook diary with a United Press reporter, commenting now and then on its numerous entries. The reporter found him over the weekend visiting at the Hollywood, Md. firm of radio commentator Fulton Lewis Jr. He first told his story in a radio interview with Lewis on Monday night.

He said some 1,000 pounds of war uranium—the stuff from which atomic bombs are made—and literally tons of secret papers jammed in black suitcases were flown to him in long-range planes.

TOLD TO RUSH
Hopkins once told him to rush two shipments through as quickly as possible, "if they could be sent," he said. Once, he added, the plane tried to stop the shipments but was shot down after warning from the state department.

The FBI has refused to comment on the case it is learned that its agents have questioned Jordan and examined his diary.

Brig. Gen. Dale V. Gaffney, who was Jordan's immediate superior at Great Falls, said in Fairbanks the story was a complete surprise to him.

Mr. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who is in the Edmonton area, is expected to receive government approval shortly, it was learned today.

The earliest syndicate, headed by R. C. Sweeney, Montreal, has been negotiating with the government for almost a year for timber concessions for the mill.

The company was recently incorporated under the name of the Edmonton Pulp and Paper Company.

Mr. Sweeney said earlier the mill will be located in the immediate vicinity of Edmonton.

World

A sad Christmas is shaping up for the little village where "Bird" was born. Bethlehem is jammed with Arab refugees of the Palestine war, practically all without work. Plain traffic which once supported the bigger share of the population has dwindled to almost nothing.

Smuggling is big business in Japanese waters. The finance ministry today reported it arrested 4,322 persons in 1944, with 1,172,000 in contraband in the first 10 months of this year. Such was the big item on smugglers' lists.

Australia's 1944 wheat harvest should top 200 million bushels. The harvest is now under way and is expected to be the second largest crop in the country's history—20 million bushels less than the 1941-42 record.

A young career diplomat, will be Canada's next representative to Ireland. A disappointment will be made to the vacancy caused by the appointment of David M. Johnston from Dublin to Canada's first high commissioner in Pakistan.

A UN committee has voted confidence and satisfaction in recent Russian and Indonesian agreement despite bitter Russian protests. A United Nations committee will be a partner with Netherlands under crown of Queen Juliana.

A Frankfurt, German, newspaper, has set out to ensure that thousands of unmarried German men spend Christmas alone. It published two full pages of "marriage ads". There are 16 women to every 10 men in Germany, but 166 of the advertisers are men.

Sixty hunters turned out to rid Groton, N.Y., of foxes, but shot only three. The mass hunt was organized after a fox race through the village last weekend, biting one woman and attacking another.

The Toronto and York town planning board, after a three-year study, have recommended unification of Toronto and seven surrounding municipalities which would bring a population of over 800,000 under one municipal government.

A man critically injured an Orange, N.J., high school boy and sent a 15-year-old girl after surprising two couples on a lonely road. He forced two girls to tie up their boy friends in a water-soaked red paddy, fed the girls away, tied one up, and assaulted the other.

Catching Whale Alive Is Whale of a Yarn

lem of how to tag a whale—even small whale—is a challenge to the imagination because it's all wrapped up with the equally-challenging problem of catching a whale without killing it.

One of the mysteries of Hudson Bay—the big salt-water lake out of Canada's Atlantic coast—the question of where the white whales that inhabit that body of water in the summer spend the winter.

The Federal Department of Fisheries would like to know this as well as a lot of other facts about the white whales—more properly the minke whales.

The only answer appears to be in finding a method of catching whales alive, tagging them in the summer, then letting them go. If tagged whale, is caught later somewhere, it would be reported to the department.

William J. Ward, Liberal M.P. for Duplain, Man., has a suggestion. It is based on the fact that belugas come into Churchill harbor with the tide and go out with it. Also that whales avoid moving objects and will try to avoid being tangled in a net.

Ward suggests that belugas come into the harbor at high tide, be tagged, and then be released. The idea is to tag them in the harbor, and then let them go. If tagged whale, is caught later somewhere, it would be reported to the department.

being "held as a pawn until the real murderer, whoever that may be, turned up, is captured."

He asked the crown attorney to grant bail, proceed immediately with a preliminary hearing or allow Wallace—who had been remanded three times—to go free.

The applications were refused. Saurday Mr. McCormick's application for a writ of habeas corpus for Wallace was refused by Mr. Justice C. J. Ford of the Alberta supreme court.

The "mystery" figure entered the case when Mr. Justice Ford also denied Mr. McCormick's request that a George Salisbury be produced. Mr. McCormick declared Salisbury a vital defense witness.

Salisbury, it was alleged, stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace at the time of the night of Miss Levesque's slaying. He was recently located at Yellowknife, N.W.T.

"If the prosecution is proceeded with (he Salisbury) will be called as a witness notwithstanding that his statement completely exonerated the accused," crown counsel Blanchard told the court.

Salisbury stopped off in Regina briefly Saturday en route to his home in the Channel Islands. He said in an interview police had allowed him to leave and he would continue overseas unless supposed to return to Calgary.

Mr. Blanchard also claimed that "police have been of the opinion the alleged confession made by Wallace is a falsehood."

"I told him (McCormick) it was not at all certain the preliminary hearing will be proceeded with at all."

Dog Rescued From Ice Floe

A rescue attempt by city police yesterday ended in success when two police officers and five firemen pulled a dog off treacherous ice just south of the High Level bridge.

Flight of the dog, stranded on a cake of ice, was brought to police attention by A. F. Shaw, of 11126-86 avenue, the canine's master.

Responding to the call, A. T. Wren and Fred Althaus launched a boat, secured by rope, and slowly made their way to the animal.

Safety ropes attached to the boat were tended by five firemen from the south side of the shore, locking his master's hand and nipping at policemen's trouser cuffs.

League Trophy To Be Awarded

Guest speaker of the evening will be Alderman William Hawerlak, who will discuss various phases of community improvement.

During the business meeting, reports will be given by the six main committees.

Pair Beaten by Gang Of Youths on Jasper

Two men were taken to hospital and two others were injured in a series of minor assault cases today being investigated by police.

Police said an unprovoked attack Sunday morning by a gang of about 20 youths, sent Marvin Jacobson, of 10161-115 street, to Royal Alexandra hospital with cuts to the nose.

A companion, Carl Vuille, address unknown, suffered cuts to the eye.

Police report the two men were standing on Jasper avenue near 9 street when the gang attacked them.

Reginald Willis, of 14123-160 avenue, was admitted to Royal Alexandra hospital with back injuries, Saturday night, after a domestic argument.

Another domestic argument, at 3 a.m. Sunday, saw Alex Hruschak, 3401-100 street, injured.

DOG TEAMS ON WANE, CITY FOLK MOBILE

Edmonton's 1949 influx of new citizens evidently prefers bikes to dogs.

The number of licensed bikes in the city has increased five times as fast as the number of licensed dogs. Since 1948, according to figures released today by license inspector Roy Foster.

Bicycles licensed to Nov. 30 totalled 15,650, compared with 15,634 to Nov. 30 a year ago, an increase of 1,025.

In the same period this year, 6,377 dogs were licensed, against 5,966 in 1948, or an increase of only 411.

Total licence revenue to Nov. 30 was $134,678, an increase of $15,706 over the $118,912 collected to Nov. 30 in 1948.

General licences issued to Nov. 30 totalled 9,129, compared with 8,100 in the same period last year.

All Records Shattered By Autumn Heat Wave

Edmontonians soaked up sunshine last month—more than they've had the chance to enjoy in any November since weather records have been kept here.

According to the local weather office, the sun shone for 14.4 hours during the month—51 per cent more than the average for November. Previous sunny November was 1935 when 14.4 hours of sunshine were recorded.

But last month wasn't just sunny. It was also the warmest November in history, with temperatures averaging 37 degrees, nearly 12 degrees above normal.

And last month was almost free of snow, too. Only a half inch of snow was recorded, the smallest amount since 1928 when only a trace was recorded.

BIG WINDSTORM
In fact, Edmontonians were justified in making only one complaint about the weather—last month was windier than usual. A severe windstorm, when gusts reached a peak of 80 miles an hour, was recorded on Nov. 16.

Edmonton shared its fine weather record last month with several districts points. At Lacrosse, temperatures recorded at the Dominion Experimental Station averaged 37.5 degrees.

Only once—in 1908—has the average November temperature been higher, and the 41-year-normal is 24.5 degrees.

Meet Tonight
Regular monthly meeting of the Edmonton Community League will be held in the rinkhouse tonight at 8:30.

Sask. Buys Competitor In Insurance

REGINA, Dec. 5.—(CP)—Saskatchewan's CCF government, in the insurance business since 1936, has expanded its operations by taking over control and management of the Saskatchewan Guarantee and Fidelity Co. of Regina.

W. H. A. Hill, former manager of the company, announced Saturday control of the company had passed into the hands of the government last Thursday. Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fries confirmed the deal. Negotiations were concluded at a directors' meeting Nov. 26.

The government paid $20 a share for the stock.

The company, organized in 1906, has specialized in guarantee and automobile insurance in Saskatchewan and insurance elsewhere in Alberta. Its charter permits it to underwrite almost any risks but life.

Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fries said the change of ownership left the position of policy holders unaffected and that all policies would remain in force.

SOME COMPULSORY

Mr. Hill said he had published notice of intention to incorporate a new company which will compete with the government's unit, with the intention to specialize in fidelity bonding.

Premier Douglas emphatically denied the suggestion that the province-owned insurance office had decided to "publicize" its competitor in the bonding business.

CCF plan for a socialized economy envisaged insurance as being in the field of public ownership. Saskatchewan government insurance office was established in 1943 primarily for compulsory automobile accident insurance.

The government office does not write life insurance. But it handles fire, windstorm, liability, cargo, burglary and plate-glass contracts.

Under legislation passed in 1946, insurance receiving regular grants from the provincial government are required to take out their insurance with its office. This requirement applies to approximately 6,000 schools and to 100 hospitals and other health institutions.

Who Gives the Jobs, Is U.K. Election Issue

LONDON, Dec. 5.—(CP)—One phrase—"full employment"—is heard increasingly as Britain approaches 1950 general election. Both Socialists and Conservatives favor it. They express varying viewpoints.

The Labor party says that since the war ended the government has maintained full employment, with the number of unemployed seldom higher than 250,000 in a labor force of 17,000,000. They argue that the Conservatives would deliberately create peaks of unemployment.

The Tories contend Labor has been able to maintain full employment only because of financial assistance from abroad. Also, an all-party committee during the war forecast in a white paper that there would be no general unemployment immediately following the war.

The Conservative election program states: "We repudiate any suggestion that deliberate creation of unemployment is necessary to maintain high production and industrial discipline."

From there, the argument usually swirls into conflicting versions of what happened during the years between the two world wars.

The Socialist line is that the Conservatives were responsible for mass unemployment during the '30s. Churchill counters by saying unemployment increased under Labor government and declined under Conservative administration.

Beaver Urges Britain Quit United Nations

LONDON, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Lord Beaverbrook's Empire-minded Sunday Express yesterday accused the United Nations of "making its first move to pluck the British Empire by the roots." It urged Britain to withdraw from the UN.

The United Nations assembly Friday, over British opposition, adopted 10 measures designed to throw more light on the world's non-self-governing peoples. It was done despite a last-minute speech by Hector McNeil, British minister of state, in which he declared Britain would not be bound by any UN decision on non-self-governing territories.

In its lead editorial, the Sunday Express says the UN has voted to install itself "as a super-government in our colonial possessions."

"The jackals are leaping on the lion because they think it is mangy," the paper said. "It is time to show them there is life, vigor and a good roar in him yet."

"There is only one effective reply we can make, that is to get out of UN, lock, stock and barrel."

MORE BABIES, MORE DEATHS, FEWER WED

OTTAWA, Dec. 5.—(CP)—The number of births in Canada is still going up. Births in Canada for the month of September totalled 30,594, an increase of 113 over the 29,881 babies born in the same month in 1944.

The number of deaths in September also increased to 9,531 from 9,330 in September, 1944.

But marriages fell off to 14,154 in the month under review, compared with 14,591 in September, 1944.

Where's Mr. Murder?

Monday mumbblings and whatever became of Al (Mr. Murder) Miller?

Can McGill dump the Giant, Kasky beat Hart?

It all depends upon the playing part.

Red Ponton, who made his main start in these parts, is in demand in the east under the moniker of Lord Blears. . . Picture of a moleman at work: Frank Stranahan, Toledo moneybags who was Canadian amateur gold ring in 1948, spars daily in Miami (Fla.) with featherweight champ Willie Pep. Now whaddya ya suppose this has to do with canning eight-foot punts?

Add sign-of-the-times: Leo Lucchini, coal branch puck placed on hockey's suspended list by Cleveland Barons for failure to report to San Francisco Shamrocks of the Pacific Coast loop, turned his back on a $3200 bid. And once California was known as the Coffee and Doughnuts league.

Add pet peeve department: People who first prime ideas and then "kill" them through overuse.

Vanover Kerrisdale, club Mercury's are scheduled to play on their coast puck launch, are coached by Paul Runge. . . Whatever became of the girl wrestlers?

Mullen Is No 'Homer'

Personal report on Riley Mullen's refereeing at the Gardens Saturday night: I thought Mr. Mullen was wrong on several penalties he dished out, particularly to Vic Myles in the first period and Flyers' Andy Clevechuck in the middle session. Myles appeared to do no more than box Alex Pringle to a halt, with the Edmonton winger threatening to break out for a clear run at the Saskatoon cage. As for Clevechuck's penalty, he had just declared himself in on the general melee that was developing at the time, principals being Bill Maser and Bill Johnson, Quakers, and "Fug" Young and "Bing" Merkle, ex Flyers. If Clevechuck rated a rap, then three or four others should have preceded him to the lock-up.

So, as I say, I think referee Mullen missed the boat on these occasions. However I also came away from the rink with a strengthened admiration for his lack of "homer" tendencies. The Western Canada circuit is notorious for the "homer" quality of most of its officials, who are quick to call "em as he saw 'em, even when Flyers were in the ball game. Moon now pays his way into the Gardens, same as any other fan.

He successfully thumbed Kilgus, Pringle, Clevechuck and Bill (Humphrey) Pettigrew (twice) of the home forces, while the blood-pressure of the partisan crowd mounted.

It might be well to remind Mr. Mullen, though, of the fate of (Pep) Moore, another capable, albeit unofficial, who elected to call 'em as he saw 'em, even when Flyers were in the ball game. Moon now pays his way into the Gardens, same as any other fan.

Huzzahs to Hi Grid Stars

Academics of the past seven days goes to those grid kids who caught a place on The Bulletin's second annual high school football squad, namely: Sid Barov, Orest Stogryn, Charlie Kinman, Bob Hepburn, "Duke" Edmondson, Bob Runge, Kasky Dyer, Al Rivers, Don Debelick, Walt Kockalo, Larry Martindale, Bob Copeman and Bill McLean. Congratulations, and may only those of you who have what it takes to be top-notchers both with the sport one year school days are behind you. It's too easy to be a mediocre athlete bum. . . Add dorm-memory-lane: Among those who sat in on the Edmonton District Thoroughbred Breeders' association bun-fight at the Mardomal motel Friday night (Oct. 1924). Lawton, now an employee of NAR, numbers among his teammates such as Bill Power, Ken Duggan and Sam Savage, Jr.

Garnet Campbell rink of Avonlea, Sask., winners of the cars at the Saskatoon rink, concluded Saturday, completed at the associated Canadian Travellers' campsite here last month. They qualified for the round-robin, then couldn't keep up.

Attention "Johnny Courtesan": In my opinion Harvey (Pug) Young brings 10 pounds (no joke intended) the best defence man in the WHL. Also I think Doug Lane rates somewhere in the first five. "Stunt" Johnny, how we could be so far apart on this one.

REG MOON CONDUCTS REFEREES' SCHOOL

RED DEER, Dec. 5.—Reg (Pep) Moon of Edmonton conducted a school for Central Alberta hockey league referees here yesterday.

Moon reviewed the 1949-50 rules and discussed problems often confronting officials. Following the school prospective refereeing candidates wrote an examination embracing 85 questions.

Those writing the test were Murray Mackenzie and Hugh Ross of Lacombe, Bill Owen and Sid Silverman, Red Deer.

President Harold Brandt and treasurer-registrar of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association came up from Calgary, while Jack Kelly, secretary-treasurer of the central loop, also attended.

It could be tough and go as Irish Bill Eddy and Benny Geary fight it out at the Scott Pavilion.

Notre Dame Whips SMU 27-20 To Wind Up Unbeaten Season

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Notre Dame's great grid team had a surprisingly hard time defeating a stubborn Southern Methodist eleven, 27-20, and Auburn eked out an upset triumph over Alabama, 14-13, in Saturday's major games as the regular United States college football season came to a close.

Before 32,487 thronged spectators in Dallas, Frank Leahy's Irish had to go all out to remain unbeaten through four seasons and 38 games. The last time Notre Dame lost was in December, 1941, to Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

After being ahead, 13-0 at the half, Notre Dame came close to losing its cloak of invincibility. Less than four minutes from the end, ahead 25-0, they had to halt an SMU drive on the four-yard line.

The 49ers will meet the defending champion Cleveland Browns for the title in the latter's stadium next Sunday. Browns eliminated Buffalo yesterday.

Haberdashers Lose Junior Cage Tilts

By Eric Pedoruk

Last Wednesday St. Anthony's lost a thrilling Junior Basketball league game to the front-running MacKinnon's Eagles by one point.

Yesterday afternoon Saints were at home to Shawville and again the contest was decided by a single point. But this time Saints were not to be denied, emerging victors by a 30-29 margin.

Varsity basketball jumped into a first place tie with Lyle MacKinnon's, defeating Sings' 40-31 in the first game of the regular double-header. C.C. players were played at St. Anthony's.

Maurice Allen and John Dewar paired the Saints to their first win of the season, with 12 and 11 points, respectively. Howie Wain (12) and Stan Ostrowski (10) kept Shawville in the running.

Paul Sweet, the fellow with the tricky southpaw shot, paced Varsity with 17 points. Jim Day, also of Varsity, spotted 10 points to aid Sweet. Carl Hartman's 8 points were tops for Rockliffe.

It could be tough and go as Irish Bill Eddy and Benny Geary fight it out at the Scott Pavilion.

Frank Jack Jerry has brought together two fighters who are closely matched. They should supply the fans with lots of thrills.

Geary was a visitor in the Bulletin sports department last night, and claimed he expected to weigh in today at 143 or 144. Weighing in ceremony will take place in the office of Dr. Herbert Conroy in the Teger Building, this afternoon at 130.

Geary is confident of getting by Eddy tonight by way of clearing the deck for his long awaited bout with Jimmy McLarnie, a gary, Nolan in Western Canada's welterweight championship.

Meteors Soar Past YMCA While Bears Whip Oilmen

Meteors soared. Saturday night's double basketball bill saw "Lefty" Struther's Meteors swamp YMCA Tolars 70-49, while Sparling Davis bowed to the more eagle-eyed Varsity Bears 50-30.

Over 200 fans witnessed the games at Varsity gym.

Meteors star import Hobey Clarke, the marmoreal all star, to the point getting demoted. Even Bob Struther got into the act. Struther, who hasn't played regularly this season, set up numerous plays and made three of his four attempts at the basket count.

A combination of Jack Cossey and Ed Licht was outstanding in the first half. They simply couldn't be touched around the basket. Big Licht would bring his arms up in the air and retrieve the rebound, then flip it to Cossey who would pivot and break through to score.

Varsity Bears' Tolars were led by versatile Grant Martin, who scored 20 points.

In the second tilt Prof. Maury Van Vleet's Bears were too accurate and superior to handle the Meteors. The Meteors' Sparling Davis team, at the half way mark, were out for four points ahead, leading 25-18.

When play resumed after the breakers, Bears easily outlasted the Meteors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—(CP)—San Francisco 49ers went out and won yesterday in the game that nearly didn't come off, defeating New York Yankees 17-7 to move into the final championship playoff of the All-America pro football conference.

The 49ers had threatened to strike early in the week over demands for a bonus payment for yesterday's game, but after the club owners threatened to disband for the year the players withdrew their threats.

The 49ers will meet the defending champion Cleveland Browns for the title in the latter's stadium next Sunday. Browns eliminated Buffalo yesterday.

Educators Take On Puck Dons

TOBACCO, Dec. 5.—(UPI)—Charges that hockey interferes with education will be framed out today when a group of amateur hockey officials meet representatives of the Ontario department of education.

George B. Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said he had looked into a number of cases but had found no proof that hockey careers interfere with education.

Dudley said today's meeting will try to solve differences of opinion in the matter.

"A boy had the right to seek his future living in professional hockey if he so desired, and if he left school for that purpose what could we do?" he said.

Food Distribution Plan Seen In UN

Committee As Go-Between Between Rich, Poor Seen

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(CP)—A special committee to operate as a go-between for countries which have too much food and those which haven't enough was proposed during the week-end at the fifth annual conference of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization.

The committee was suggested as an instrument for enabling big producing countries, such as Canada, to dispose of surpluses which develop from dollar shortages confronting food-deficient countries.

The proposal came from a special working party established to draft recommendations for international action to deal with surpluses.

The proposal will be considered, perhaps today, by the conference's policy commission. It will then be forwarded to the plenary session of the conference, now in the 14th day of a 24-day study of world food problems.

DANGER PREDICTED

The conference is planning to meet Wednesday. To meet that target date, its budgetary commission met yesterday to study stipends, constitutional changes and the auditing of accounts.

Money Bill Is Extended

OTTAWA, Dec. 5.—(CP)—The Commons Saturday approved a bill to extend provisions of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, aimed at encouraging gold production.

A lively debate started when Hon. J. G. Macdonald (C.P.) charged that the federal government had extended assistance originally intended for marginal gold mines to mines which are showing good profits and paying dividends.

'Trap Bids' Often Bad For Partner

By William E. McKenney

While I receive a great deal of fan mail from my readers throughout the country, I am sorry to say that many of the hands sent to me I cannot use. However, this week I have gathered together six hands from my readers. Some of them have fine plays, while others are just unusual breakers.

I cannot give you the name of the reader who sent in today's hand, because she has her partner get into a terrific argument over it. After looking over the bidding which they submitted, I do not think either one has bid it correctly, but there is a good reason in it as to why.

One of the pitfalls in bidding for the beginners is termed "trap bidding." The point I want to impress upon your mind is today's bid. Before you make a bid, ask yourself if it will trap your partner in any way.

In today's hand South opened the bidding with one spade. North, who had two and one-half tricks, or an opening bid opposite an opening bid, knew there was a game in the hand. But why make a bid as strong as three spades? That is a jump bid, which not only demands a game, but suggests a slam. North should have made a constructive bid of two diamonds, which his partner could not pass.

After North's bid of three spades, South bid four spades, signing the hand off. He had heard her partner's bid, demanding a game and having a slam, but her response said, "Partner, I have no additional values."

A typical trap bid of five spades was made by North. South should have passed this, even though he cannot be sure. But there are few players who, with South's bidding, would not go to an apogee.

If you want to avoid such occasionally, as North did with the three spade bid, that is all right, but then do not later on in the bidding find another bid. If you do, you can expect to trap your partner into a bad contract every time.

'GLASS BUTTON' GETS FINDER $1,120 REWARD

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 5.—(Reuters)—Victor Martinez, French waiter in a leading Buenos Aires hotel, was washing dishes last Saturday when he found what looked like a glass button. He put it in his pocket and forgot all about it.

Hearing that someone in the hotel had lost a diamond worth $20,000, Victor took another look at that "button."

It was the diamond. For returning it to the owner he got a 10,000-peso ($1,120) reward.

Buying for Hubby Is No. 1 Xmas Problem

By Bea Thrifty

Well, let's face facts, girls! Men are here to stay. And as long as they're here to stay they'll be Number One on the Christmas shopping list. My soft little heart just won't bear another Christmas watering long-suffering husband's shopping list after he's been through the usual Xmas shopping. I've been conservatively abstemious, but I've been buying bowls and kites, . . . two or three shaving kits, . . . all featuring a brand of soap he wouldn't use in a million years.

So let's take a special effort with the light of our life this year. . . . husband deserves a treat.

Last year I splurged with an electric razor. After all, he's the one who has to shave. He's had a clean shave, then, stored it away in the very bottom of his dresser drawer.

So I'm considering a dressing gown. This year, more important than anything else, I want to buy him a new pair of slippers.

Household Arts

Cutlery and kitchen hand, this

Or a pair of cuddly, warm slippers, lined with sheepskin, would make a happy treat to the tune of $2.95. If you buy the flexible kind, folded into a neat little package, you can give them as a gift at any time.

Tobe on Fashion—Is There A Skier On Your Christmas List?

Am sure that an present will thrill a girl who also as much as smart ski clothes. This year we expect the interest in skiing to be bigger than it ever has been in America because the World Ski Championships are being held over here for the first time in history—in January and February at Lake Placid, N.Y., and at Aspen Colo.

A modern ski-jacket, anorak or parka, or a classic wind shirt that looks in like a raincoat is the best choice for a pair of downhill skis in winter.

Or if she has enough work, all ski clothes, choose something glamorous for after-school lounging, as a fake fur skirt and a jersey blouse.

WHY GROW OLD

Muscular Development Helps Co-ordination

By Josephine Lowman (Question Box)

Q. I know there are many boys and girls who have embarrassing moments when they have to take part in athletic activities and aren't very good at them.

Is there any way in which one can improve so that it is possible to be at least an average athlete?

A. Yes. Good muscular development helps and you can take exercises which develop coordination and physical power. Any exercises are good but there are some which are especially so.

Some people are born with quick reactions and good coordination while others can improve, even though they may never be as good as the "natural".

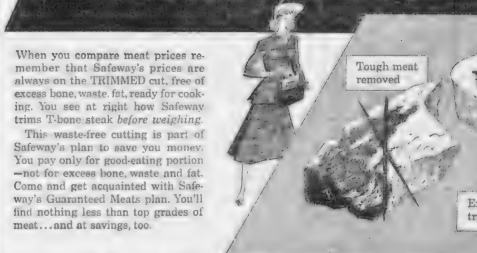

Do this exercise: Stand erect with your arms at your sides. Swing your right leg to the side and back across the front of your body. Keep this swinging up, like a pendulum of a clock. Your left foot carries the body weight. As you swing your right leg to the right, swing both legs to the left. As you swing both legs towards the left, swing your arms towards the left.

Remember, too, that practice makes perfect, so do not give up sports and activities up because you feel uncoordinated. Everyone has to learn and everyone goes through the learning stage.

Q. I know you are busy and receive lots of letters but please point this one. I am 17 years old and 5 feet 2 1/2 inches tall. I weigh 120 pounds. My measurements are 35 inches, my waist 25 inches, and my hips 36 inches. What is wrong with my figure?

A. You are not badly overweight. You might lose five pounds, not by real dieting but just by leaving off some of the extras: candy, nut sundae, etc. Your measurements are well within the allowable for a good figure. You might take hip exercises and lose an inch there.

Dinner at Antoine's

By Frances Parkinson Keyes

"Dinner at Antoine's" is a story of the life of a woman who has been married for 20 years. The story is told from the point of view of the wife, who is a woman of great strength and character. The story is a story of love, of sacrifice, and of the triumph of the human spirit.

CHAPTER TWELVE
Mildred could have been here for some time when she answered the door. She had been waiting for the call of the telephone. She had been waiting for the call of the telephone.

These recollections took flight the instant she caught sight of her husband. He was standing there, looking at her with a look of surprise and joy. He was looking at her with a look of surprise and joy.

"Let me go, O'Brien. I'm not in the mood to see you," she said. "I'm not in the mood to see you," she said. "I'm not in the mood to see you," she said.

"Very well," she said. "I'm not in the mood to see you," she said. "I'm not in the mood to see you," she said. "I'm not in the mood to see you," she said.

"I can only say that you took a great deal of time to get here," she said. "I can only say that you took a great deal of time to get here," she said. "I can only say that you took a great deal of time to get here," she said.

"I'm not in the mood to see you," she said. "I'm not in the mood to see you," she said. "I'm not in the mood to see you," she said. "I'm not in the mood to see you," she said.

Academy Awards Cinch to Seers

Mind-Readers Claim They Have Answers All Tied Up

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 5.—(UP)—This is the season when "Oscar" forecasters run wild and wacky along the boulevard. The change is in two minutes and who says they can tell the winners by listening to "unsubstantial" talk.

It goes with mysterious numbers. When the ball comes that says "Oscar" is in the air. The ball comes that says "Oscar" is in the air. The ball comes that says "Oscar" is in the air.

That's what they claim, anyhow. Mind-Readers and Louise already have settled the question every body's asking these days. They know who's going to win the Oscar and who's going to lose.

NAME WINNERS
They said it pretty doggone early. The Academy is to go ahead and not the annual thing when they could save all the trouble and expense to say nothing of the war and tear on a lot of people's nerves.

Women Clerks
Given A1 Raise
VICTORIA, B.C. (Dec. 5)—(UP)—The government today raised the minimum wage for women in the wholesale and retail mercantile industry from $17 to $18 a week starting Jan. 1.
